

BY JASON THOMSON

LONG BRANCH - Last month's Art Seen brought you up close and personal with Long Branch's Sculptoure event. This month we're giving you some more.

But what exactly is Sculptoure?

It's Long Branch's version of an urban sculpture park organized by one of this city's best known art venues, SICA (Shore Institute for Contemporary Art).

Sculptoure, which kicked off on May 10th, is made up of over 25 major artworks from artists around the country on sites throughout downtown Long Branch, Pier Village, and along the oceanfront.

We went in for round two and here's what we found. To check it out for yourself, download a guide map at sica.org and take a cruise through our oft neglected triCity.

1

3

WHOWHATWHERE

1 \ Michelle M. Vara, One Buckin Thing After Another
Pier Village, Ocean Avenue

2 \ Chela St. Onge, Pueblo : Broadway

3 \ Unkown : Garfield & Ocean Ave's

4 \ Bob Mataranglo, Cone Boy : Broadway

2

4